An Interesting Document.

L. H. Jones has an interesting document giving the poll of the foundry at the scale works just before the election of Buchanan in 1856. The vote of the 47 Col. Fremont,

The document further says, "Of those who voted for Fremont nine were minors -two unnaturalized, three not voters in the state. For Buchanan 2 minors, 1 unnaturalized, 2 not voters in the state, leaving the voters for Fremont 24, for Buchanan 2, for Fillmore 2." So far as is known Mr. Jones and Col. Frank Walker, the veteran foreman of the foundry, are the only ones now living here who participated in this poll when the republican party had their first can-didate for president.

Gift to the Academy.

Mrs. Lucie Webber Macmillan Estab-The following letter from a former student at the Academy will be read with great interest by the many friends of that institution:

Hotel Somerset. Boston.

Nov. 3, 1904. To the Trustees of St. Johnsbury Academy Gentlemen: Hearing that the Academy is in need of a home for young lady students, I beg to say that if accep-table to you it will give me pleasure to purchase the property on the corner of Western Avenue and Main Street known as the Francis Bingham place, to re-fit and furnish the same and to donate it to the Academy to be used as a home for young ladies and a boarding house. This I understand can be done for the sum of eight thousand dollars. I should also like to have my uncle, the Rev. Henry Fair-banks, recognized as my representative in all matters concerning this property. Asking your acceptance of this gitt, and with best wishes for the continued prosperity of the Academy, believe me,

Yours very truly, LUCIE MACMILLAN At a meeting of the trustees on Wednesday this offer was accepted and the house now occupied by L. W. Rowell, will be thoroughly refitted for the pur poses for which it is to be used. It will be known as the Charlotte Fairbanks house ready for occupancy at the beginning of the next school year. The donor, Mrs. Lucie Webber Macmillan, is a native of this town and the daughter of Rev. Dr. George N. Webber, pastor of the South church from 1855-1859. After she left the Academy she completed her education at Smith College and in Paris, and married in 1894 the London representative of the American Car and Foundry Company. Mrs. Macmillan, it will be recalled, was the first American lady to cross the wilds of Abyssinia, meeting King Menelik in his own domain. She is now in London, having sailed from New York on Nov. 8 on the Kaiser Wilhelm II.

A Growing Business.

A representative of the CALEDONIAN pleasantly spent an hour last Friday in looking over the plant of the St. Johnsbury Packing Co. just across the river. This is one of the newer concerns in town having been running about one year, but already they have built up a large trade that extends all over this section of New England. They have just started their fall campaign slaughtering hogs, scarcely a week passes but what 40 are killed. In fact, last year 2300 hogs were killed and made up into ham, bacon, sausages and lard. Just to give an idea of ing business which is still in its infancy we will say that 15 500 pounds of sausage were made there during the past year; this includes both link and bag. Even the ears, tails, snouts and pigs feet are converted into cash here, for these are shipped to Boston, where they are sold to the Polish people who delight in such delicacies. The killing is all done by machinery, huge pulleys being used to bring refractory hogs to the block. Steam is used to remove the hair and the water in the trough is kept warm in the same manner. In summer a cooling room is cooled by electric fans, but in winter a huge refrigerator keeps everything cold. Another storage room is filled with bacon, salt pork and smoke! hams and pickled goods. The hams are smoked in a separate building by using the old fashioned cob method. Machinery grinds out the sausage, and fills the links, while the lard is tried out in a huge iron kettle which is covered with a steel jacket into which steam is forced. Five men are employed here and it is a busy place when 60 hogs are killed and the product disposed of in one week. The firm is composed of C. E. Kirk and J. C.

Sale at the Church of the Messiah.

As will be seen by details in the advertising columns, the ladies of the church of the Messiah, are making preparations for a most practical and interesting occasion on Thursday and Friday of this week. In addition to the usual display at their annual sale, a special feature will be a doll's table with dressed dolls for sale, doll's clothing and various other articles needed by every first class doll. Another feature will be a table suitably adorned to display the beauty and merits of "The Womans' Home Companion." The Clam Chowder supper comes Thursday evening and the entertainment by the children on Friday evening.

C. P. Tourist Car.

One of the new tourist cars of the Canadian Pacific railway was on exhibition here Monday forenoon and the car was visited by several hundred people. All were greatly pleased with its furnishings and general equipment. The car has all the conveniences of a first class Pullman and in addition a kitchen where travellers can cook their meals. The exterior finish is of California redwood and the interior red birch, while the upholstery is a rich leather. There are springs in the beds and like all the sleeping cars of the Canadian Pacific the berths are wider and there is more space between the upper and lower than in any of the Pullman cars. These tourist cars are built especially for the accom-modation of holders of second-class tickets, but first-class passengers often avail themselves of this service because of the difference in cost. The car was in charge of W. H. Snell of Boston, one of the travelling representatives of the system, and Ticket Agent Henderson, both of whom were kept busy answering questions and showing the visitors around.

Coughe Are Dangerous.

Cough syrups that are constipating are more dangerous. When buying a cough syrup get one that is laxative i should be cured, not dried up, that is where the danger lies. LIX-ALL is a LAXATIVE Cough and Cold Remedy fully warranted. If not satisfactory remember you get your money back. What more could you ask?

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bussell Remen

bered by Friends at Burlington. Mr. and Mrs. James E. Russell celebrated their golden wedding with a reception at their home at 273 St. Paul street, Wednesday afternoon and evening. A large number of their friends and relatives gathered at the home, re. membering Mr. and Mrs. Russell with several gifts of gold and cut glass. The reception began at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and from that time until late at night they were kept busy receiving the well wishes of their guests. During the evening an orchestra composed of Louis Fremau, Moses Cabana, E. L. Tracy and A. H. Smith played. Refreshments were served by some of the younger friends of Mr. and Mrs. Russell, while their grandchildren assisted the guests to the host and hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Russell were married 50 rears ago Nov. 9, at Worcester, Mass. the clergyman who performed the cere mony being Rev. John Boyce. The first four years of their married life were spent in Worcester and Lowell, Mass., but they have lived in Burlington for many years. Mrs. Russell's maiden name was Mary Ann Gallagher. Of a large family, only four survive, Thomas F. Russell of Philadelphia, Mrs. W. D. Brown home for girls, the house being given in memory of the donor's mother who was of this town, and Misses Mary and Saa daughter of the late Sir Thaddeus rah Russell of Burlington. They also Fairbanks. It is expected to have the bave nine grandchildren, five living here, three in Philadelphia and one in Burlington. Mr. Russell is 73 years old, while Mrs. Russell is two years younger. Both of the old people are hale and hearty and are in possession of all their faculties. Among the large number who called during the day were Rt. Rev. John L. Michaud, Catholic bishop of Vermont, and Rev. P. J. Barrett, pastor of the William Northrop Macmillan of St. cathedral. The out-of-town people pres-Louis, who has been for several years ent at the celebration were Capt, and Mrs. William Cronin of Rutland, Mrs. Lynch of Rutland, Miss Mary Ring of Peck. New York and W. Sunday School Conference. A conference of Sunday school workers was held at the North church Monday afternoon in charge of Rev. E. M. Fuller, superintendent of the Vermont Sunday School association. The conference was entirely informal and Mr. Fuller outlined the progress of the work, its en-couraging features, and told what the people of St. Johnsbury could do to increase the interest and attendance in the schools. During the conference Mr. Fuller was interrogated by those present about the various phases of the work. Mr. Fuller reminded the audience that the state association would hold its next convention here in October and said it would undoubtedly be the most successful gathering in the history of the asso-
